On other fronts: Three acceptances are in for the Forum - Frank Lloyd Wright, James T. Farrell, and Edward L. Bernays (one of the nation's top public opinion and public relations men)

The TV committee with two exceptions has done nothing, not even bothering to send in reports despite repeated requests from me. However, I have had some good luck. I have been promised 15 British feature length films. This is not definite, and the whole deal may yet fall through as these things often do, but right now it looks as if we will get for shipping costs only: The Man in the White Suit, So Long the Fair, The Assassin, The Black Narcissus, The Browning Version, Caesar and Cleopatra, Great Expectations, Kind Hearts and Coronets, Mandy, The Seventh Veil, and a few others. Conversations With Elder Wise Men looks very good also, but it too is not definite and can always fall through. If we get it, it would include interviews with Bertrand Russell, Robert Frost, Frank Lloyd Wright, Arnold Toynbee, etc. Still no word on the other shows.

I told Jack that I would work on the local sports net if I had time, but any work I do on that will be short and haphazard; so don't hold your breaths waiting for it to be sold.

Remember orders from the flying chieftain say destroy this report immediately. Each copy is specially soaked in my own martini formula, extra dry, with a manhattan soaked copy for the files. Now you know what I've been doing all summer.
